

Disclaimer: The user of this data agrees to release the Department of Natural Resources and Conservation from all liability of any kind arising in connection with the use of this data.

These shape files depict approximations of state tracts to be offered for lease and the Department does not warrant their accuracy or suitability for a particular purpose. Errors in base polygons may exist that are not discovered or corrected during lease sale preparation. Riverbed tracts in particular are rough depictions of the general section of the river offered for lease, but exact ownership of islands and their accretions and abandoned channels has not been determined. Where differences exist between the shape file polygon and the lease sale list legal description, the lease sale list legal description controls.
